Report of the Director

OVERVIEW

This annual review of a year's accomplishments is a good reminder of the contributions Alabama's public libraries make in their communities. The Alabama Public Library Service is proud of its leadership role in assisting local libraries. We are committed to expanding and increasing the library and information services available throughout Alabama.

Highlights of this past year include:

- Successfully completing the first year of operation by the two multitype library systems
- Initiating a public library teleconference linking sites in seventeen public libraries
- Awarding $2,166,231 in state and federal aid grants to extend and strengthen information resources
- Introducing 23,000 children to reading through the Fantastic Journeys summer reading and public libraries program
- Increasing beyond all previous records the circulation of materials through the APLS reference department
- Continuing growth in the circulation of 16mm films
- Reaching a record number of blind and physically handicapped Alabamians with specialized information services.

The Alabama Public Library Service seeks to insure the best library service possible for Alabama's citizens. It is with pride that we offer this report of the activities carried out in 1982 which help achieve this goal.

As always, we thank the many dedicated trustees and librarians throughout the state whose commitment to improved library service makes these accomplishments possible. A special appreciation is extended to the Executive Board of the Alabama Public Library Service for their work on behalf of all of Alabama's public libraries. A special thank you is also extended to the staff of the Alabama Public Library Service without whose assistance our many accomplishments would not have been possible.

LIBRARY COOPERATION

Multitype Library Systems

In 1982, Alabama's two multitype pilot projects completed their first year of implementation. Established to test the feasibility of the governance model proposed for Alabama, the two projects have initiated several successful cooperative projects among the libraries that are members of the systems.

The Alabama Library Exchange offers interlibrary loan among its members with the assistance of a reference and interlibrary loan librarian at its headquarters in Huntsville. ALEX shares WATS line communication costs to facilitate these services as well as communication among its members. Any member may issue an INFOPASS to enable library users to seek assistance in a library that is not their regular library. This is particularly valuable in opening access to special collections and libraries whose primary clientele is not the general public. To strengthen local library collections, ALEX awarded matching grants for collection development in member libraries. These competitive grants stimulated joint planning for resource sharing as well as augmented the collection strengths of member libraries. A comprehensive directory of resources will highlight the collections of each member and assist in the increased resource sharing that has resulted from the establishment of ALEX.

The Pioneer Alabama Library System (PALS) has implemented a shared application of technology for the two systems. Through Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) membership, the systems are developing a union list of serials of the holdings in both systems. An initial listing of serial titles in each member library has been completed and holdings will be added. PALS also initiated a project to identify Alabama newspaper titles held in its member libraries. Several workshops were also held to improve reference services.

During this past year, the systems have worked to improve access and availability of a wider range of information, to share the costs of technology, to share ideas and expertise, and to provide continuing education opportunities. The active participation by member librarians has resulted in system activities that meet the shared problems and concerns of the participating libraries.

ALABAMA LIBRARY INFORMATION NETWORK

The Alabama Library Information Network (ALIN) continued to process a growing number of reference and interlibrary loan requests. The Alabama Interlibrary Catalog (ALICAT), the state's union catalog on microfilm, contributes greatly to the decentralization of interlibrary loan traffic by providing over 1,000,000 holding locations in sixty-two libraries. Thus, a greater number of transactions occur between two local libraries and are not counted in the ALIN statistics. The publication of The Alabama Library Information Network: An Interlibrary Loan Manual provided the lending policies of all participating libraries and detailed the protocols for using ALIN.

The two statewide resource centers, located at the Alabama Public Library Service and the Birmingham Public Library, processed transactions which could not be handled locally. The APLS center handled 9,189 requests for ALIN and sent 11,554 books in response to questions. The center at Birmingham handled 4,025 requests. The centers also provided photocopies of materials when the original publication could not be sent.

TELECONFERENCE NETWORK

APLS initiated a public library teleconference with seventeen public libraries throughout the state participating. The one-hour teleconference featured an address by U.S. Senator Jeremiah Denton. The participants were able to hear Denton, ask questions and hear participants at the other locations. The teleconference network, a first in the nation, is available for use by the groups served by each library. The network provides a resource for information resources and improves communication throughout the state and APLS is pleased to cooperate with local public libraries to help make this service available.

LIBRARY FUNDING

State Aid

The Alabama Public Library Service budget for fiscal year 1982 was appropriated in the amount of $2,850,000 which included $1,556,024 for state aid. Using the 1980 U.S. Census population, this resulted in state aid disbursement at $.40 per capita. State aid to public libraries is a vital component in the funding of library services. Across the state, state aid contributes 9% to the library budget and is an important factor in insuring that all residents of the state have an equal access to information resources. Libraries rely on state aid for programs such as outreach to the homebound, bookmobile and books-by-mail services to the geographically isolated, and, of course, purchase of books to meet the growing information needs of Alabamians.

Federal Funds

Federal funds for public library programs continue to play an important role in the development of adequate library services. Funds from the Library Services and Construction Act awarded to Alabama in Fiscal Year 1982 totaled $1,234,074. Under the provisions of the law, LSCA was spent for interlibrary cooperation; service to the disadvantaged, the unserved, institutionalized, handicapped and other groups with special information needs; local public library programs and services; and statewide programs.

LSCA grants to local libraries in the amount of $610,207 enabled libraries to offer reference and interlibrary loan services, planning and developing countywide services, library automation projects in local libraries, multitype library systems, and other innovative programs for providing information.

Statewide programs funded under LSCA provide the services of the Alabama Library Information Network; purchase materials in support of interlibrary loan; purchase 16mm films which circulate to local public libraries; support the publication of catalogs, newsletters, manuals and summer reading program materials; provide a variety of continuing education opportunities for local librarians and trustees, and support automation of library functions to build a statewide database which serves as the foundation for future networking activities in Alabama.

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) through the Alabama Development Office awarded grants for construction of a new public library building in Alabaster. The grant, in the amount of $300,000 was supplemented by local funds. Construction of buildings awarded funds in the previous fiscal year was completed in Brent-Centreville and Leeds. These grants are administered by the Alabama Public Library Service under its LSCA public library construction program.

CHILDREN AND YOUNG ADULT SERVICES

The 1982 summer reading program theme, Fantastic Journeys, enticed over 23,000 children to read in the public library. APLS developed and distributed posters, bookmarks, reading logs, and certificates to all the state's public libraries. The libraries planned special activities to highlight their collections and to attract the children from their community to the library. The Fantastic Journeys materials were awarded a first place for excellence in design in a ten-state competition sponsored by the Atlanta Ad Club.

1982 was the first year for the operation of the Children's Book Examination and Review Center at APLS. The Children and Young Adult Services Consultant coordinates the Center which allows public librarians to preview copies of current children's materials before purchasing copies for their own libraries. The Center received 1,344 children's books valued at $10,335. The public librarians met quarterly to consider which books they would like to add to their own collections. Librarians participating in the book examination meetings receive copies of the books to add to their library collections.

At APLS, a juvenile collection was started to support the work of the Children's and Young Adult Consultant. These books represent notable works published for children and young adults as well as superior titles with limited audience appeal that might not be added to most public library collections.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Personnel represents the single largest expenditure from library budgets so the continuing education programs of APLS are designed to insure that librarians obtain and update the skills necessary to provide excellent library services for Alabamians. In fiscal year 1982, APLS offered new workshops on Books-by-Mail Services; Collection Development and Weeding; Programming in Libraries (including audiovisual, public relations and the humanities); and repeated the successful Conference on Administrative Concerns.

APLS continued its scholarship program to encourage talented college graduates to enter the library profession. Scholarships in the amount of $750 were awarded for parttime study to three employees of Alabama's public libraries. Scholarship awards are made possible under the LSCA program.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Department launched several major projects in addition to producing the regularly-scheduled APLS publications, promotions and newsletters. These included the Alabama Library Information Network: An Interlibrary Loan Manual; Cinematics, a comprehensive listing of all APLS film holdings; concept and design of Fantastic Journeys, the 1982 Summer Reading Program; and the statewide Teleconference Network project.

Work was begun on a statewide multi-media campaign to boost the image of Alabama's public libraries. Funded by APLS through an LSCA award, the campaign will feature three 30-second television public service announcements, three 30-second radio public service announcements, and 100 billboards. The thrust of the campaign is geared to working adults and is scheduled to break in December.

APLS received awards from the International Association of Business Communicators/Montgomery chapter for the 1981 Summer Reading Program; for Cottonboll, the APLS newsletter; and for the colorful "fiche" brochure detailing the APLS microfiche holdings.

HUMANITIES RESOURCE CENTER

The Humanities Resource Center, sponsored cooperatively with APLS by the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama, provides materials and planning assistance for public programming in the humanities. Materials include films, slides, recordings and exhibits as well as printed materials. New exhibits in 1982 were "Alabama Borderlands", "Images of Work" and "5¢ Cotton".

The center published a newsletter, KIOSK, which is distributed to civic, social and other community groups throughout Alabama. KIOSK publicizes the Center's services and resources. The Center also hosted a booth at the South Alabama State Fair to make more Alabamians aware of the services.

During this past year there has been a marked increase in circulation of Center's materials. Over 180,000 people viewed the materials distributed by the Center.

LIBRARY OPERATIONS

The Library Operations Division, which includes Information Services and Technical Services, responded to increased demands for assistance throughout the state and the information needs of state government. The Division also provided the support for the internal library functions of Alabama Public Library Service. Additional copies of the APLS catalog on microfiche were distributed to state departments and public libraries. This author-title-subject microfiche catalog provides access to the APLS collection from the user's own location and aids them in identifying the materials they need to borrow from APLS.

Circulation of materials increased 44% over the previous years. Circulation records were broken in January, then in February, and again in March! Use of the OCLC interlibrary loan subsystem increased by 22% as demand for materials has to be met by borrowing from libraries outside of Alabama. APLS was especially proud of its average response time of 1.3 days for information supplied from the APLS collection.

A major acquisition in 1982 was the National Union Catalog Pre 1956 Imprints. Fourteen years in production, this 750 volume set expands the known locations of older materials for interlibrary loan and assists in cataloging historical titles. Excluding this set, APLS purchased 8,178 titles at an average cost to APLS of $17.12 each.

The following tables graphically describe the services and resources available through Library Operations:

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

Services provided by the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped continued to expand. The Division circulated 101,750 talking books and braille volumes to 4,894 users throughout Alabama. This represents an increase of approximately 44% over the previous year.

The Public Library Service is especially appreciative of the many hours of service donated by volunteers. The volunteers contributed 3,131 hours to assist users of the Division's services. Without these volunteers, our services would be seriously hampered.

The automated system developed for the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped maintains data by computer thus freeing each reader advisor to offer personalized, individualized guidance to users of the Division. Due to automation, the Division has absorbed the workload from the Birmingham and Mobile subregional libraries when they chose to close due to financial constraints. In addition, the system produced mailing labels "on call" and in shelf list order which saves time and handling in the bookstacks. Various management and statistical reports are produced, including overdue lists, mailing labels for all patrons, reader and circulation statistics by county and by reader advisor.

AUDIOVISUAL

Additions were made to the collection of 16mm films in an effort to meet a growing demand for the audiovisual services of APLS. In this fiscal year, 683 films were added to bring the collection up to 2500 films. There were 15,429 film circulations which reached a reported audience of 935,093. This was a 16% increase over the previous year. However, due to the increasing demands of our libraries patrons, we are still experiencing a severe shortage in the number of 16mm films available for circulation.

The benefit of computerized circulation was extended to the film collection with the addition of a film booking module in the APLS automated circulation system. The system handles advance bookings, automatically prints mailing labels, and provides management statistics on use of the collection.

Circulation of films was stimulated with the publication of Cinematics, the APLS film catalog. The catalog was distributed to public libraries in Alabama to assist them in selecting titles to borrow.

The Alabama Public Library Service has agreed to cooperate with six southeastern state library agencies to form the Southern Audiovisual Exchange. These libraries will cooperatively develop their film collections, participate in cooperative purchasing, and lend their films to each other.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

Through the application of automation to library services, APLS is able to offer better and more comprehensive services to meet the growing information needs of Alabamians. The Information Systems Management Division continued the installation and refinement of the automation circulation systems at APLS.

The CLSI circulation system which is shared with Montgomery City-County Library is routinely used for book and film circulation. A system installed at the Birmingham Public Library allows on-line access to the databases for all three libraries.

The automated system developed by APLS for the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped maintains routine procedures to free the Reader Advisors for personalized assistance to individual readers. During 1982, it handled approximately 8,500 books per month through the selections made in advance for each reader. The computer handled the daily routines of circulation, generated mailing labels, and maintained a predefined level of circulation of books to each reader.

CONCLUSION

The Alabama Public Library Service is pleased to report the accomplishments of the past year. The dedication of many individuals contributed to the expansion and improvement of library services throughout the state. Much of this progress is attributable to the librarians who work in Alabama's public libraries and to the trustees who freely give of their time to serve on boards.

The support of the APLS Executive Board has made possible the continued programs of the state library agency. The current Board Members are Herndon Inge, Jr., Chairman; Mildred Phillips, Vice Chairman; Kay Vowvalidis, Harold Herring and Sam Hughston. During the year, Ann Pritchard also served. The leadership and unselfish commitment of each Board member are vital to the continued development of our public libraries.

Advisory committees play an important role in the development of services. Many individuals have contributed their expertise to review programs and have brought a depth of knowledge and experience that enriches the statewide focus of library services.

Finally, the concern and commitment of the Governor and Legislature is greatly appreciated by the people of Alabama. Each year a little more progress is made. Much remains to be accomplished and with the continued support of the elected officials it will be possible to continue the gains made over the last few years.

Alabama Public Libraries Statistical Reports

PUBLIC LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Resources in Alabama's public libraries were reported as a slight increase over the previous fiscal year. The total number of volumes reported was 5,587,782 or 1.43 per capita. Non-book materials, including films, phonorecordings, microform and other non-print materials, were reported as 511,017 items. The portion of the funds expended for library materials, both book and non-book items, remained the same as last year, 13%. Within the category, non-book dropped by one per cent which was the same gain reported in the book category. Overall growth in library collections was slight and failed to keep pace with population increases.

Local government appropriated 80% of the receipts reported by public libraries with only 6% of this amount attributed to general revenue sharing. The local government appropriation, including general revenue sharing, reflects 79% from municipal sources and 21% from county appropriations.

State aid and LSCA account for 12% of the total receipts. State aid was disbursed at $.40 per capita for a total of $1,556,024. Total federal sources, some of which are reported under other, but which includes LSCA, CETA, General Revenue Sharing and special grants, accounted for 11% of the total receipts.

Since public libraries are service organizations, the major portion of expenditures were for personnel costs which includes salaries, wages and the cost of fringe benefits. Personnel costs were reported as $11,247,171, a modest 7% increase over the cost reported last year. These costs were 62% of the total budget.

Operating costs reported by public libraries were 22% of the total expenditures. This percent was the same as reported in the previous year although it reflects a slight increase in dollars reported. The amount expended for library operation in 1982 was $4,007,876.

Capital outlay, as a portion of the total expenditures, reflected the greatest decline over the previous year accounting for only 3% of the total expenditures. New facilities were dedicated for Pickens County, Lincoln Public Library, Stevenson Public Library, Avondale Branch of the Birmingham Public Library, Gulf Shores Public Library and Troy Public Library. An addition to the Florala Public Library was also completed. No state funds were available for construction.

Definitions for Public Library Statistical Tables

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1981 through September 30, 1982. Public library statistics are given in three tables. The first is arranged alphabetically by county of location. The numerical code under Region identifies members of regional libraries and corresponds to the regional library statistics. Single county libraries designated as regional libraries report their headquarters statistics in the county listing.

The second table provides statistics for multicounty regional library headquarters. These statistics for headquarters are not included in the county listing.

The third table totals statistics for regional libraries. They are listed alphabetically by name of library. Library Services and Construction Act grant awards are listed only in Table II and in Table III.

Under Library Resources, 16mm films are included in Other Non-Book Materials in the first table. These are reported separately in the regional totals.

Financial reports are from unaudited accounts. Receipts and Expenditures were not required to balance for this statistical report.

Population reports are from the 1980 Census population of the area legally served by the library.

Total Staff In FTE includes all fulltime and parttime staff. A fulltime equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Parttime staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Finances are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

Local Government Receipts are the revenues received from all local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library treasury, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

General Revenue Sharing funds are reported separately.

Other includes funds for personnel under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Wages and Salaries reports include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security retirement, etc.
